ON TRAIL OF 3 TRAIN BANDITS

Robber Who Held Up Mail
Car and Passengers Gives
Clew to Gang

Prisoner, Suffering From a Fractured Skull, in New
New Orleans Hospital

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 5.—Suffering from a fractured skull, the bandit who single-handed robbed the New York Limited train on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad 12 miles east of New Orleans last night, later to be felled by the locomotive driver, was brought to New Orleans today and placed in the Charity hospital.

The bandit said his name was Howard Edwards, and that his family lived in Jupiter, Fla. He gave the police information which is expected to lead to the early capture of three other members of a gang that is believed to have been responsible for a series of sensational train robberies in this section.

CRAWLS ABOARD ENGINE

Edwards first crawled aboard the engine not far from New Orleans and covered Engineer Baer and the fireman with two revolvers. He carried a small valise in which he had dynamite and nitroglycerine. The train was stopped and with the engineer and fireman preceding him at the point of revolver, Edwards rifled the mail car of all registered mail and then relieved the men passengers in five sleepers and a club car of their valuables. He did not offer to molest women. He secured almost $1,000 in cash. Going back to the engine the train had proceeded about 25 miles, when Engineer Baer caught Edwards off his guard and struck him a terrific blow on the head with a brass peacock, fracturing the base of his skull.

GIVES POLICE INFORMATION

When the train reached Bay St. Louis, Miss., the robber was taken off. Although Edwards was unconscious at intervals throughout the night, he gave the police a plausible history concerning his alleged partners. Superintendent Marshall of the New Orleans division of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, who was a passenger aboard the train, stated that only one man on the train had a revolver, but he could not use it because the robber kept the trainmen in front of him when he passed through the cars. Many of the passengers knew of the presence of a robber and they hid their valuables.

OSAGE, Kan., Sept. 5.—A masked robber boarded a north-bound Missouri Pacific passenger train here early today and held up the conductor, the auditor, six men in the smoker and after obtaining only $20 for his pains, jumped from the train when it stopped at a water tank and escaped.

The conductor reported the robber a rank amateur.

Mourned as Dead by
Wife, Who Got Pension

Illinoian Makes Fortune and Returns, as if From Grave,
After 17 Years.

EATON, Colo., Sept. 5.—Mourned as dead by his wife and children for 17 years, Montavilla Woodworth, who despite his 82 years, left his home in Pesotuma, village in Champaign county, Illinois, to make his fortune, is expected here in a few days to attend a family reunion.

After amassing a considerable fortune in British Columbia and Alaska, Woodworth recently returned to this country and discovered that his wife was living when on inquiry at the pension office for his benefit he was told that he was legally dead and that Mrs. Woodworth had been drawing his pension.

Before leaving Illinois 17 years ago Woodworth left a note to his family saying they should never see him again. When he returned he found that he had gained a substantial competence.

MERCED TREASURY IS SHORT $10,000

Daylight Thieves Blamed for Loss
by County Authorities

MERCED, Cal., Sept. 5.—Ten thousand dollars in gold is missing from the treasury of Merced County. The loss was discovered yesterday, but was not announced until today after accountants had worked all night on the books. Beyond the bald fact of the loss only one thing is sure, the theft must have been committed in daylight when the county safe stood open, for the time lock is set at night and there is no evidence that it has been tampered with.

No suspicion attaches to George W. Kirby, the county treasurer, nor have Sheriff Cornell or District Attorney Shaffer, who are working on the case, the faintest clew.

Once a month the county takes stock of cash on hand. Yesterday was the day for striking a balance and as the shortage was not discovered until then the cash may have been stolen any time during the past thirty days.

The count is made by the district attorney and the auditor and chairman of the board of county supervisors. Their best recollection is that the missing gold was contained in a single sack. Some one with full familiar access to the treasurer's office, it is believed, must have gained his attention while a confederate lifted the sack of gold.

Accused of Imprisoning and Drugging Young Girl

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—Thomas Beaumont, a merchant of Alaska, who was arrested yesterday, accused of white slavery, is on the verge of collapse in the city prison. Beaumont has taken his imprisonment harder than most of those booked at the hall of justice, and unless he recovers his composure before nightfall, he may have to be taken to a hospital. Throughout the morning the man shook in his cell as though with the ague and was unable to articulate plainly. He is on the verge of complete mental breakdown. Beaumont was taken into custody as he left the steamer Lindauer late yesterday on complaint of Charlotte Hara, an 18-year-old girl, who asserts that she answered an advertisement in a New York paper for a nurse to look after a child and went to Baltimore, where she met Beaumont. From there she came to this city and lived together at 829 Twentieth avenue. Up to the time of their arrival she was treated with the greatest courtesy, according to her claim, but on reaching the cottage, was drugged and apparently unconscious. No woman has been sworn out yet by the federal authorities and Beaumont will remain in the city prison until the United States attorney takes steps against him.

American Marines Guard Nicaraguan R. R. Stations

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Sept. 4.—(Delayed in transmission)—American marines and bluejackets are now guarding many of the stations on the railroad which runs from Corinto to this city. A large force of United States sailors and marines left Corinto today and proceeded along the railroad. At many places they had to rebuild portions of the track which had been torn up. The operation of the railroad between this city and Corinto is to be resumed at once, but the line to Granada and the south cannot be put into working order until the arrival of further reinforcements.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 5.—The protected cruiser Cleveland in command of Captain DeWitt Blamer was off Magdalena bay at 2 o'clock this morning, according to a radiogram from the vessel. Charles Bonner, the 18-year-old murderer, received sentence of life imprisonment in San Quentin at the hands of Superior Judge Dunne this morning. He had been convicted of slaying 17-year-old Lillian Godair.

The courtroom was crowded, the silence was ominous and the mother of the defendant leaned forward eagerly in her seat as the words from the judge's lips consigned her boy to a life of penal servitude. She has done everything possible to save him. Her evidence of pre-natal influence was the most remarkable disclosure ever made by a mother on the witness stand.

In passing judgment Superior Judge Dunne arraigned the jury, gave it as his belief that the crime was most depraved, and asserted that his opinion Bonner was perfectly sane.

"The verdict of the jury was in a sense a compromise verdict," said the Court. "No one who followed the course of this trial could come to expect that the marines and as many sailors as can be spared will be landed immediately on the vessel's arrival at the Nicaraguan port. The cruiser reports all well.

Rail Placed on Track in Effort to Wreck Train

OXNARD, Sept. 5.—An attempt to wreck Southern Pacific passenger train No. 9, north-bound from Los Angeles for San Francisco, was made at Moor Park, near here, last night.

A heavy steel rail was placed across the track, and officials of the company stated today that all that prevented a disastrous wreck was the speed at which the train was running. The cowcatcher picked up the rail and carried it more than a thousand feet before the train was stopped. Three men who had recently been discharged by the company were held today on suspicion, but officials admitted they had no direct evidence against them.

A sheriff's posse started out early today to search the hills for the would-be train wreckers.

The silence was ominous and the mother of the defendant leaned forward eagerly in her seat as the words from the judge's lips consigned her boy to a life of penal servitude. She has done everything possible to save him. Her evidence of pre-natal influence was the most remarkable disclosure ever made by a mother on the witness stand.

In passing judgment Superior Judge Dunne arraigned the jury, gave it as his belief that the crime was most depraved, and asserted that his opinion Bonner was perfectly sane.

Automobiles Collide; Driver Breaks Shoulder

LIVERMORE, Sept. 5.—As a result of a head-on collision between two automobiles near here yesterday, George Dinsmore of Vallejo sustained a broken shoulder and possible internal injuries. He was taken to the Fabiola Hospital in Oakland, where Dr. A. Cunningham is attending him. Dinsmore, accompanied by Frank Genuse, also of Vallejo, were in a wreck. The accident occurred in the direction of this place when the accident occurred. A cloud of dust raised by a small whirlwind obstructed Dinsmore's view as he rounded a corner and he failed to see an automobile coming in the opposite direction. The name of the driver could not be learned. Dinsmore was the only one injured. His machine was a complete mess. His machine was a complete

CLUB MANAGERS PLEAD GUILTY TO GAMBLING

Social Welfare Workers Crowd Court to Hear Pleas of Wooley and Others

Pleas of guilty to gambling charges were entered by Jack Wooley, one of the proprietors of the Turf club, 1214 Broadway, and George French and W. Wood, two members of the organization, before Judge Morris J. Smith, this morning. The three gamblers were permitted to withdraw their pleas of not guilty and will be sentenced tomorrow morning.

The agitation against the alleged "social clubs," which followed the arrests of Wooley, French and Wood, and which has been followed by the council investigation of the city's 1200 social clubs, received a setback of several free liquor licenses, aroused the interest of many social workers and the courtroom was crowded this morning when the gambling cases were called. Morris J. Smith, presiding judge of Alameda county of the Childs Welfare League, of the newly appointed Municipal Welfare and Censorship Commission, and of several churches were present.

COMPELLED TO PLEAD.

The gamblers had at first asked for jury trial, and it was thought that a fight would be made in court. Settlements disclosed were pronounced if the cases should go to trial. A few days ago it was rumored that the men wished to forestall trial, and the jury trial was waived by their attorney.

On learning that it was desired that the three men should be permitted to foretell trial, the court officials and the district attorney's office took the matter up and stipulated that this would not be per-mited by the court. It was decided that the men would either have to stand trial or plead guilty and take their chance of a heavy sentence. The limit would be $500 fine and six months imprisonment.

Attorney Phil Walsh explained that the defendants wished to change their pleas, which was permitted by Judge Smith and Wooley and French and Wood were charged of having gambled at the game of craps at the Turf club. District Attorney W. H. Denahue was present at the court proceedings to represent his office and would go forward by advising Prosecuting Attorney Ezra Decoto.

WILL TAKE TESTIMONY.

The gambling to which the three pleaded guilty was done in July in the Turf club. The evidence was collected by O. H. Heyenmann, a San Francisco attorney. It is probable that before sentence is passed the former miners' social testimonies will be taken to determine the nature of the offense as a basis for passing sentence.

The social workers who have interested themselves in the gambling case and who presented their evidence to the court are W. C. Barnard, president of the Municipal Welfare and Censorship Commission; Miss Agnes Ray of the Childs Welfare League; Dr. Minor Kilby, head of the Oakland Social Workers' Council; Rev. Susan Fenton, member of the Neptune Committee; Anna Anderson, Hettie R. Goldrick, Anna Young, M. A. Young, Malchiona Fraser, Mrs. Frances N. Woodard, Mrs. Mary Kirkpatrick, Mary E. Stewart, Rev. George W. White, Rev. Herbert A. Lamp and several others.

which had been paid in were not accepted.

Like a consciously guilty man awaiting sentence of condemnation, Van Meter again took the stand before his weeping wife who insistently declared that there was some mistake and that her husband was innocent.

"What am I to do?" he asked.

"You will go to the Argonaut hotel and wait there till you are sent for," said De Groat.

WAITED FOR ARREST.

Van Meter stayed at the Argonaut hotel with his wife over night. Yesterday morning he was arrested on a charge of embezzlement and lodged in the city prison, where he told the story of a strange double life he had led during the past eight years. He is 52 years of age and has two children, one 8 and the other 2 years old. He is a man of excessively nervous temperament, has educated himself by prolific reading, but lays his downfall to a need of excitement through associating with men companions who were in better financial condition than himself. His salary was $200 a month.

"It is the old, old story," he said in the prison yesterday afternoon. "I listened to the call of the fast life and I took my employer's money, always, of course, with the intention of refunding—although I never had the remotest idea how it was going to be done except out of my own mind. My wife never knew my habits. To her I was always devoted yet I dare say it devolved to play her false as I have done. I have lived a double life."

GOOD REPUTATION.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 5.—Mrs. Fred Van Meter, whose husband is in custody in San Francisco on a charge of embezzlement, refused to discuss her husband's trouble today. She had evidently passed a sleepless night. When told that her husband had always borne an excellent reputation in this city and that Alameda knew only good of him, she said: "The kindest thing that you can do is to say as little as you can. I have nothing to say."

Van Meter has lived in Alameda nearly all of his life. His parents made their home in this city for many years. The illness of another son compelled their removal to Hayward a few years ago, where the son died. The father is cashed in one of the leading San Francisco restaurants.

Young Van Meter was married about ten years ago, his wife being a Miss Patterson. Both the Van Meter and Patterson families are widely known in their home city. Van Meter never showed any sporting proclivities in this city and was always regarded as a model businessman and husband. He seldom participated in local happenings of late years. He was on Park street a few days ago and his friends greeted him almost as a stranger to Alameda.

large section of territory bounded by Cuscan, Casas Grandes, Ojinjas and Bocas Grandes, where he has been receiving reinforcements from Sonora. General Schuyler reports that Cananea is now safe, but that the situation at Nacozari is precarious.

MERCHANT CREMATED.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 5.—Zapatistas crossing from the states of Guerrero and Morelos and the state of Oaxaca are reported to have captured San Miguel, Ahuacatlan, yesterday, after sacking the town to have celebrated their victory by burning most of the houses. Carlos Mendez, a wealthy merchant, was seized and cremated in the flames of his own store.

Volunteers made a sharp fight, but were overcome by the invaders. The barbarities that followed were similar to those reported from other districts attacked by the Zapatistas. The leader of the rebel band is said to be Enemico Zapata, a brother of Emilio and Contino, and one of the most noted brigands in Puebla after having been confined on the charge of murdering five Germans, one a woman, at Coatzacoalcos.

A part of the rebel band later in the day, according to the reports, was engaged by state troops in a hard fight at Silacayoaham a short distance away.

PLOT TO TAKE CITY.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 5.—Unless stronger measures are adopted by President Madero of Mexico to put down the Zapatistas, the rebel bandit that have terrorized the southern part of the republic for more than a year will be at the gates of Mexico City in less than six months, according to J. C. Long of Mexico City, who arrived here yesterday evening from the Mexican capital. The secret police of Mexico have discovered a Zapatista plot to attack Mexico City on September 15, which is the anniversary of Mexican Independence, and where the greatest celebration of the year takes place. A large number of arrests have been made.

TO INVESTIGATE TROUBLE.

LONG BEACH, Sept. 5.—Senator A. B. Fall, a member of the Senate committee to investigate the report that American capital is responsible for the present trouble in Mexico, arrived here today. He will be joined here in a few days by Senator Wm. Alden Smith of Michigan, chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, who left Grand Rapids last night for Los Angeles. They will go to El Paso to continue their investigations.

Senator Fall denied statements that he had said American capital encouraged the Mexican revolution. He said he was unconvinced thus far such reports were true, though there was a great amount of American capital in Mexico, and it may have had something to do with the continuance of the trouble.

Senator Fall also said he disagreed with those who believed the trouble in Mexico is near an end. He predicted a long and bloody struggle.

General Croxato was once employed by Senator Fall at El Paso, hauling freight.

PACK TRAIN TO REPORT.

JUNCTION CITY, Kas., Sept. 5.—A pack train from the United States military post at Fort Riley was ordered to report immediately to General Steeves, commanding forces along the Mexican border, in instructions received today from the War Department.

PAYS VISIT.

EL PASO, Sept. 5.—E. Z. Steeves, commanding the department of Texas, with staff officers at noon today crossed the international line and paid a formal visit to General Victoriano Huerta, commander of the Mexican federal forces in the north. The American general was met at the international bridge by a troop of Mexican cavalry and a company of infantry.

FIREMEN REPRIMANDED FOR BREAKING RULES

LIEUTENANT Dan Barr and Hoseman J. Clooren, both of the Alice street firehouse, were before Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Fred C. Turner on charges of violating the fire department regulations by visiting saloons during hours on duty. The men were found guilty of the charges by their own admissions and penalization of ten days' loss of pay was imposed on Barr and fifteen days' loss of pay upon Clooren. The men were also severely reprimanded by Turner and Chief Ball.

ADOPTED CHILDREN RECEIVE MONEY

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—Howard Hamilton Hart, a millionaire, who resides in Clayton, appeared in Judge Graham's court today when $7000 was ordered distributed to his two adopted children. The money is part of the estate left by Mrs. Hart, who died a year ago, leaving all her property to her two adopted children, whom she had adopted from an orphan asylum.

ANXIOUS PARENTS SEEK SMALL BOY

Fred Elliott, 8 years of age, left his home, 717 Castro street last evening shortly before 6 o'clock to play with some boys. The boy failed to return and the police have been asked to search for him. The parents fear the boy has met with some mishap.

INCORPORATE COMPANY TO BUILD DIABLO ROAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—Articles of incorporation were filed here today for the Diablo Road Highway company, a $100,000 concern. The incorporators are H. Miller of San Francisco, president; W. C. Burgess, Oakland, treasurer; F. A. Thomas, Oakland, manager, and F. R. Shadley and M. C. Jacobs of Oakland, directors. It is proposed to build a toll road from Pine canyon to the summit of Mt. Diablo, fifteen miles, and a branch to Oak Park stock farm, connecting with the Stock road to Lamont.

MAY BE TRIED ON FURTHER CHARGES

The Deposed Police Inspector Ordered to Explain the Alleged Threats.

Hays' chief reason in going to Whitman was to forestall any action against him by the grand jury pending his departmental charges of making a false statement relative to Commissioner Waldo's attitude toward disreputable resorts.

THREATENS WALDO.

The former inspector is quoted today as having said to the district attorney: "Let me am until I'm through with my police troubles. It is certain that I'll be broken. Waldo can't do anything else, but if I'm put on the stand I'll tell a story that will cause Waldo to resign his job instantly. Yes, and it will go further and cause sensation in the Mayor's office. I want to be free from any handicap that the grand jury might put on me." Commissioner Waldo said he had nothing to do with Hayes and had told the former inspector that the former would have ample opportunity to talk all he wanted at the trial, which will be held at the police headquarters tomorrow.

WILL TAKE TESTIMONY.

The gambling to which the three pleaded guilty was done in July in the Turf club.

The evidence was collected by O. H. Heyenmann, a San Francisco attorney. It is probable that before sentence is passed the former miners' social testimonies will be taken to determine the nature of the offense as a basis for passing sentence.

The social workers who have interested themselves in the gambling case and who presented their evidence to the court are W. C. ## PROGRESSIVES NOMINATE FULL TICKET IN OHIO

Bull Moose Rally at Syracuse Is Also Behind Prendergast

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 5.—Governor Hiram Johnson of California, the Progressive nominee for Vice-President, who addressed today's session of the Ohio State convention, arrived here early today. He immediately went into conference with James R. Garfield, Walter F. Brown and other Progressive leaders. Following Governor Johnson's address, which will be delivered shortly after the opening of the convention at 9 o'clock, and the report of the various committees, a full State ticket will be selected.

PROGRESSIVE NOMINEE BALKS.

DANVERPORT, Iowa, Sept. 5.—Herman Zenck, nominated as Progressive candidate for congress for the second lowa district, declined the nomination today.

NORTH CAROLINA TO HAVE TWO TICKETS

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 5.—Republicans of North Carolina today came to the parting of the ways and two state conventions were held, one by the supporters of President Taft and another by the followers of Colonel Roosevelt. As a result of the clash there will be two electoral and two state tickets in the land.

SEEK TO RESTRAIN COLONEL'S ELECTORS

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—Legal papers, it was learned last night, were signed by several prominent Philadelphians asking the United States Court to restrain the Secretary of the Commonwealth from certifying the nomination of those electors on the Republican ticket in Pennsylvania who favor Colonel Roosevelt for president.

NEBRASKA PROGRESSIVES TO SEEK TEST CASE

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 5.—A conference between Manager Corrick of the State Progressive campaign and his committee, and Attorney General Martin resulted in an agreement to institute a friendly suit to establish the right of the Progressives to an independent place on the ticket with the right of a party circle.

PRENDERGAST IN FAVOR.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 5.—The opening session of the Progressive state convention today found the framework of party organization already constructed and the delegates ready for the consideration of a state ticket.

None of the candidates for the head of the ticket is making an active canvass. Comptroller William A. Prendergast of New York told his friends he would do nothing to get the nomination. If it came to him unsolicited he said he would accept it. Chairman Hotchkiss again declared he was not to be considered as a candidate, but many up-state delegates were insistingly for him. Bainbridge Colby of New York was a receptive candidate, and he, too, declined to engineer any canvas in his interest.

T. R. AT ST. PAUL.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 5.—The "Bull Moose" has invaded St. Paul today in great numbers. The occasion is the arrival of Colonel Roosevelt who is scheduled to deliver an address at the Minnesota state fair today. The former president and his party arrived in two private cars attached to the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific train at 7:30 this morning from Des Moines.

REPUBLICANS IN HARMONY.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Sept. 5.—There was every indication of harmony among the delegates to the Montana state Republican convention, when State Chairman John D. ## EXPOSITION TAX RATE IS FIXED

Will Be 4 Cents and 4 Mills on $100; State Valuation $2,921,277,451.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 5.—The State Board of Equalization yesterday formally fixed the rate for the Panama-Pacific Exposition tax for 1912 at 4 cents and 4 mills upon every $100 assessed valuation of property.

The statement issued by the equalizers in making the rate for the exposition tax shows the total assessed valuation of the entire state, both operative and non-operative, reached the sum of $2,921,277,451. This is divided as follows:

Non-operative property ..... $2,476,554,408

Operative property ..... 297,351,424

Railroads ..... 147,371,809

Total ..... $2,921,277,451

From this total 5 per cent is deducted for probable delinquency, amounting to $146,065,872, leaving $2,775,213,579 upon which the tax rate is figured.

Because $2,207,000 was raised last year in excess of the $1,250,000 needed to be assessed under the exposition tax law of the 1911 session of the legislature, this amount is deducted this year, leaving only $1,229,703 which must be gotten for the exposition commission on the 1912 levy. The assessable valuation of the property to be taxed and the amount to be raised by the tax results in 4 cents and 4 mills rate.

BIG BUSINESS HOUSE IS NEAR COLLAPSE

BERLIN, Sept. 5.—One of the largest Realty building concerns here, with liabilities of over $12,500,000, is reported to be in difficulties owing to over speculation on the growth of Berlin. The Tageblatt says the appointment of receivers has been appointed for the building, which is believed neither to be unobtainable. Should the report prove true this would be most extensive collapse in a long series which have recently occurred in the real estate market. The concern was formerly backed by several banks, but these have lately withdrawn their support.

HOW TO PRESERVE YOUTH AND BEAUTY.

One great secret of youth and beauty for the young woman or the mother is the proper understanding of her womanly system and well-being. Every woman, young or old, should know herself and her physical make up. A good way to arrive at this knowledge is to get a good doctor book, such for instance, as "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., which can readily be procured by sending thirty-one cents for cloth-bound copy, addressing Dr. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y.

The womanly system is a delicate machine which can only be compared to the intricate mechanism of a beautiful watch which will keep in good running order only with good care and the proper oiling at the right time, so that the delicate mechanism may not be worn out. Very many times young women get old or run down before their time through ignorance and the improper handling of this human mechanism. Mental depression, a confused head, backache, headache, or hot flashes and many symptoms of derangement of the womanly system can be avoided by a proper understanding of what to do, in those trying times that come to all women.

Mrs. G. H. Williams, of Lynnhaven, Va., wrote: "It is six years since my health gave way. I had female trouble and all the doctors I employed three said I would die. I was not able to do my work and I could not earn a living. I heard about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and decided to try it. I had not taken but one bottle until I found it had done me good. I took in all three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Disease' and lost weight and got well again. I now weigh fourteen pounds. I advise all women who suffer from female trouble to try your 'Favorite Prescription.'

PETERSEN MADE POLICE CHIEF; LOU AGNEW IS HIS SUCCESSOR

LOU AGNEW, WHO HAS BEEN APPOINTED ACTING CAPTAIN OF INSPECTORS.

Walter J. Petersen, who has been made head of the bureau of criminal investigation since its creation as a part of the Oakland police department, was this morning appointed chief of police upon the retirement of Chief Adelbert Wilson. Chief Wilson retires after 40 years' active service on account of ill health. The change will become effective October 1.

Lou F. Agnew, who has been in the detective bureau in a confidential capacity, since it was organized by Petersen, and who has been acting head of the bureau for the past six months during the illness of Wilson, has been detailed by Chief Petersen as acting captain of inspectors, succeeding Petersen. Agnew is recognized as one of the most capable men in the detective bureau. In the recent examinations given by the civil service board for promotions within the department Captain Agnew was given high ratings in all subjects and gained a splendid percentage.

The change effected this morning by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety, W. H. Turner, was the endorsement of the city council, is subject to confirmation by the civil service commission. The civil service directors have informally signified their agreement to the plan.

PETERSEN'S STANDING.

Petersen, who becomes chief, retains his civil service standing as captain of inspectors. The chiefship is not protected by civil service, and Petersen refused to accept the place unless he could retain his civil service standing in the captaincy. Agnew will be detailed as captain, but will not gain that civil service rank until the position is formally vacated by Petersen. Petersen's leave of absence as captain of inspectors is of indefinite duration.

Petersen became a member of the department in 1886, when he was appointed a patrolman. Three years later his efficiency and popularity resulted in his promotion to the rank of sergeant, and in 1889 he was made captain of police. October 1, 1897, he was made captain of detectives, and when the new charter went into effect

SAYS WIFE PEEKED THROUGH KEYHOLE

Dr. J. E. Clark Tells What Caused the Divorce Troubles.

That his wife was in the habit of peaking through the keyhole of the room while he was attending women patients was said by Dr. J. Emett Clark of Alameda, in his testimony before Superior Judge Osgood, to have caused a great deal of the marital troubles between him and his wife. Clark, in suing him for divorce, charged him with cruelty and asks alimony which the physician declares he is unable to pay.

Mrs. Clark misinterpreted many of the things she saw through the key-hole, testified the doctor yesterday.

In attempting to get a divorce for himself last year, Dr. Clark complained that his wife was the cause of his trouble with the family. It was Mrs. Clark who was cruel. He said that she had persecuted him and had driven him into so many unpleasant escapades that the publicity had diminished his practice, and the time his wife spent with him, taking care of their children and taking it to Sacramento, he was forced to return, and at another time she pursued him with a horsemanship. Once in his office she attacked a nurse who, she declared, had been too friendly with her husband.

'POISON' BOTTLE CONTAINED WATER

Used by Advertising Man to Frighten Married Woman He Loves.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—"I loved this woman; I love her yet. I worship her, but if she is another man's wife, I'll stay away from her; I promise that." This was the statement made on the witness stand this morning by Harry Keller, an advertising man arrested yesterday charged with threatening the life of Mrs. E. McKenzie of 1550 Fillmore street.

When Keller was taken into custody he had a bottle labeled "poison" containing only water, and he intended merely to frighten the woman.

"There is something wrong when a man goes around with a bottle of water in his pocket in this town," said Judge Weller. "If it had been anything else but water, we wouldn't have thought much about it."

Keller explained that when he was home on a previous trip he had known the woman and was not aware that she was married on his return. He was released on his promise to leave the city and not to molest the McKenzies further.

OAKLAND MAN MADE PRISONER IN MEXICO

William Bender Escapes After Struggle; Tramps 300 Miles

A description of the horrors of the revolution in Mexico is given by William Bender, a civil engineer and former war correspondent, who has returned to Oakland after terrible hardships and dangers.

Bender, who is a graduate of Heidelberg University, Germany, and of Cornell with the class of 1896, escaped from a Mexican prison and tramped 300 miles to Guaymas, where he says he received courtesy from the American Consul Taylor except a meal, and continued his way to safety and safety.

"That American consul told me that he was a Mexicanized citizen and a Mexican business man, that he did not receive any pay from the United States, and he preferred the Mexican friendship and understanding which I had with Bender. Those were his exact words. I am going to take his case up with Washington."

CAPTURED BY REBELS:

Continuing his story Bender said:

"I was captured by the rebels on my way to Guaymas. In the mountains of Shilao, I held a prisoner for ten months, made to do work for the rebels without any pay, excepting some little food when it was there, and after all others had eaten. At San Ignacio, rattlesnakes were thrown into my cell, but I managed to kill them. I was bitten by one in the thumb of the right hand, but I sucked the poison out of the wound."

"Finally, after Orozco failed in Chihuahua, the rebels thought that I was more better to be carried bound than to be done away with. So I was court-martialed by a fake court-martial of rebels, and condemned to be shot in the morning. This was during the end of July. The exact date I cannot give. In the night, after making friends with my guard, by the way of hitting him over the head with his gun, I managed to get away."

"It was my only chance and I was desperate. I managed to reach the Rio Colorado river, which was swollen by heavy rains. By holding onto a pine log for eighteen hours, and going down the river at a rate of seven to eight miles an hour, I got away and finally reached the South-eastern Pacific, Mexico."

"I had to walk close to three hundred miles to Guaymas, where I explained to American Consul Taylor my experiences."

"He also told me he was married for the last 32 years to a Mexican woman and he only spoke to me in Spanish, saying he could converse more readily in that language. I had to walk again, and after two weeks of hardships, landed at the United States boundary, Nogales. Finally I reached my home, San Francisco, where I am now looking for employment of any kind, until I can start out again as an engineer."

MORE FIGHTING TO COME:

"According to reports, affairs in Mexico are quiet, but in my estimation, there will be fighting there for years to come. Our men are sure that the United States will finally have to intervene. An army officer of the United States in Tucson, Arizona, told me the United States was waiting for winter, and that seems to be reasonable, as there is much fever and smallpox in Mexico now on account of the heat and insanitary conditions."

"I know of one case in Mazatlan where there is an aged American couple who had a farm for the last ten years in Mexico.

The rebels came and stole the horses and plows and burned the rest, and now the woman, who is more than eighty years old, is an invalid, unable to walk. Her husband is a cook, a dishwasher, and her husband is an old, crippled, lame man. They have practically no hope of getting back anything that they had worked for so many years. Some papers would have you believe that Americans in Mexico are not molested if they keep quiet."

"You can take my word for it, the rebels will go after you. Charges against Americans are easily fabricated in Mexico and these bandits are experts at that."

GIRLS VIOLATE 'HONOR SYSTEM'

Repentant, They Get Permission "to Meet Mamma," Then Disappear.

The honor system failed to work perfectly when tried by officers of the Oakland Detention Home on two runaway girls from San Francisco yesterday afternoon. The two girls were Mary McCormick, aged 11, who had run away from her home, 522 Douglass street, San Francisco, and Madeline McConnell, 13 years of age, a neighbor.

The two children were located for their parents when they arrived in Oakland and learned that the girls were running by the Southern Pacific, which stops at Nineteenth and Franklin streets, within a short distance of the Detention Home.

"Please let me go to meet mamma," pleaded Mary. "It's only a little way and the train is almost there."

Hearts were touched by the plea and the little girls were started down the street hand in hand.

They had not gone long when Mrs. Emil McCormick arrived. She had not seen the children. The two girls had taken good care of that. When she learned they had gone to meet her and had again disappeared Mrs. Petersen became almost hysterical. The police have again been asked to assist in finding the youngsters.

NEW YORK LAWYER STIRS DIPLOMATS

Representatives of England and Austria Probe Queer Case of B. Gibson.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Consular representatives of two foreign nations interested themselves today in the case of Burton W. Gibson, a New York lawyer, against whom the Austrian consuls started proceedings yesterday to have him removed as executor of the will of Mrs. Ross Sabo, a widow. She was drowned not long ago in Greenwood Lake, Orange county, while in company with Gibson in a rowboat. She left an estate of about $10,000.

According to John B. Broderick, the acting consul general for Great Britain, Mr. Gibson was counsel and adviser for John Rice O'Neill, a British subject, who disappeared more than a year ago, after winning a $10,000 damage suit from a railroad company for the loss of a leg. The British consul made efforts months ago to trace O'Neill but without avail.

In 1906 Gibson was counsel for Mrs. Alice Klein, who was killed in her home in the Bronx. The murder was never solved. On the recommendation of the coroner's jury Gibson was held in $25,000 bail pending investigation of the case, but he was released on a habeas corpus writ and the case was dropped. Subsequently he brought suit for false arrest.

Mr. Gibson appeared at his office today, but said he had no statement to make. "I may have something to say later," he added.

EVANS EXPOSES SAN FRANCISCO PLOT; CONSOLIDATION TRUTHS ARE EXPOUNDED

Alamedans Told They Should Stand by Oakland and Gain Control of Their Own Waterfront

ALAMEDA, Sept. 5.—Last evening, in the semi-monthly meeting of the Unlarian Club of Alameda, which was held in the lecture room of the Unlarian church on Grand avenue, near Santa Clara avenue, Alameda, was devoted to a discussion of the Greater San Francisco consolidated association's initiative "constitutional amendment No. 3," as listed on the November ballot.

It was scheduled that Attorney W. S. Sharpstein would present the San Francisco association's views on proposed amendment No. 3. Talcott Evans, secretary of the Alameda County Anti-Annexation League would explain the meaning and purposes of the measure from the viewpoint of the league in California.

Mr. Sharpstein devoted most of his time, however, to an explanation of the manner in which the proposed amendment was framed and the concessions that had been made in framing it to the representatives of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce at a conference in San Francisco.

He then outlined what he represented could be accomplished through the consolidation of the bay cities with San Francisco under a burough system of government, devoting most of his time to what, according to his ideas, it consisted of in London and New York. He assumed that it would result in greater economy in the cost of government than at present.

The question of the bond indebtedness of each city was dismissed curtly with the remark that each city consolidated into the proposed city and county would "bear the burden of its outstanding bond indebtedness at the time of the consolidation," and so forth.

Extracts from letters of presidents of some of the boroughs of Greater New York were read by him.

When Talcott Evans was introduced he said he was disappointed in Mr. Sharpstein's presentation of the purposes of the proposed amendment. Mr. Sharpstein, he said, had devoted himself chiefly to the consideration of what a consolidated city and county under a burough system would be, begging the real question—namely, what the proposed consolidation really meant and what were its real objects. He would himself, therefore, supply what Mr. Mr. Sharpstein had neglected to supply, paying no heed to the question of city and county government on the burough or any other plan, that subject being at present premature. If it ever should prove to a point where it became a live issue, the league would be found ready to discuss it.

Mr. Evans then delivered the following address, which was given a close and attentive hearing by the members of the club:

REASON FOR OPPOSITION.
The Alameda County Anti-Annexation League is opposed to the proposed constitutional amendment initiated by the Greater San Francisco Consolidation Association and filed with the Secretary of State and by him listed on the ballot to be east at the general election next November as "Constitutional Amendment No. 3" in section 1, article XI, of the State Constitution, as it now stands or reasons which will be presented herewith.

The section of the Constitution which the Greater San Francisco Consolidation Association set up in 1910, says that any county government may be merged and consolidated into one municipal government, with one set of officers, and may be incorporated under general laws providing for the incorporation and organization of corporations for municipal purposes.

The provisions of this constitution are applicable to cities, and, also, those applicable to counties so far as not inconsistent or prohibited to cities, shall be applicable to such consolidated governments.

The initiative amendment to this section of the State Constitution, which the Greater San Francisco Consolidation Association and filed with the Secretary of State and by him listed on the ballot to be east at the general election next November as "Constitutional Amendment No. 3" in section 1, article XI, of the State Constitution, as it now stands or reasons which will be presented herewith.

This barrier has prevented Oakland and Los Angeles cities from dismembering the counties in which they lie. It has, also, prevented San Francisco (and now prevents) it from invading the territory of neighboring counties to absorb any part thereof and extend its jurisdiction.

The first objection raised by the framers of the present constitution is to protect the weaker political divisions of the state against the possible aggressions of the stronger. With a single exception, the framers of the constitution foresaw and foretold what San Francisco, abetted by the city of Los Angeles, is now attempting to accomplish through Constitutional Amendment No. 3, which, if adopted, will bring down the entire bulwarks erected for the protection of the weak against the aggressions of the strong.

The first objection reasonably raised against the proposed Constitutional amendment is that it is a special legislation, obnoxious to the letter and the spirit of the state constitution.

CLASSIFICATION REDUCED.

It reduces, in the first place, the present numerous classifications of cities and counties approved by the Supreme Court to two, namely, those of 350,000 population and others of less population in the exercise of their special privileges. It specially provides that cities or cities and counties, possessing a population of 350,000, shall have the special privilege of annexing or consolidating contiguous territories, the same containing a majority of the votes cast in each of the two communities concerned in the proposed consolidation or annexation. The present constitution requires two-thirds of the vote cast by each of the communities concerned, in common with other communities, to validate the act of consolidation.

The proposed amendment furthermore enables any city or county or county desiring to annex contiguous territories, the same containing a majority of the votes cast in each of the two communities concerned in the proposed consolidation or annexation. The present constitution requires two-thirds of the vote cast by each of the communities concerned, in common with other communities, to validate the act of consolidation.

MAJORITY ALONE NEEDED.

In brief, the proposed constitutional amendment enables communities having a population of 350,000 to annex contiguous territories, the same containing a majority of the votes cast in each of the two communities concerned in the proposed consolidation or annexation. The present constitution requires two-thirds of the vote cast by each of the communities concerned, in common with other communities, to validate the act of consolidation.

The proposed amendment furthermore enables any city or county or county desiring to annex contiguous territories, the same containing a majority of the votes cast in each of the two communities concerned in the proposed consolidation or annexation. The present constitution requires two-thirds of the vote cast by each of the communities concerned, in common with other communities, to validate the act of consolidation.

SPECIAL LEGISLATION.

The proposed amendment is special legislation because only two cities in the state are qualified to take advantage of the privileges it confers—namely, Los Angeles and San Francisco, and San Francisco is the only city in the state qualified to utilize and enter upon all of the provisions, these two cities only having a two-thirds vote.

In the second place, it breaks down the present constitutional safeguard protecting counties against dismemberment or disruption, by enabling a city of 350,000 population to dismember and annex to a contiguous county, absorb the populous section, consolidate with it, and organize a new city and county in violation of the present constitutional provision prohibiting such an independent organization being formed within five miles of the annexed county boundary.

OUTRAGEOUS CONDUCT.

That is a scheme to rob Peter to pay Paul with a vengeance! A public high-way man who forces you to give up your purse at the point of a pistol is a gentle giant compared with the municipality that will attempt such a wholesale robbery of its frontier neighbors.

That is not all. The cities and counties attempt to hold up through Constitutional Amendment No. 3 have under a very low assessed valuation a surplus 16 per cent bonding capacity of $31,851,124. They are not entitled to do this for public improvements for their own benefit, but if Constitutional Amendment No. 3 should be carried and consolidation should be effected at a majority vote, every penny of that surplus bonding capacity could be exhausted by San Francisco's superior claim to the same, and the money used for its self-improvement alone. This is no theory, but is what would actually occur, as has been illustrated in Greater New York, where the city in California and secure commercial supremacy in Southern California.

ONE CITY FAVORED.

San Francisco is the only city in the state which can avail itself of the special privilege of crossing county boundary lines to expand its jurisdiction. That is the inviolable right of every county for the purpose of consolidation is forbidden. And in the case of either the absorption of a city lying in an adjoining county or of a part of a county only for the purposes of consolidation, the majority of the voters of the county or of the townships consolidated must be given by its votes at an election held for the purpose in order to validate the act of county consolidation.

The amendment defines the manner in which the properties of the communities consolidated shall be disposed of, the separate responsibilities for debts contracted and the mutual responsibility of indebtedness incurred by the communities now consolidated shall be amalgamated into one city and county and the form of government which may be adopted.

SAN FRANCISCO'S PET MEASURE.

The measure was framed primarily for the exclusive benefit of San Francisco, but containing features which will enable the city of Los Angeles to gratify its ambition for expansion through the absorption of numerous contiguous rich and populous communities located in the eastern portion of the state.

The Alameda County Anti-Annexation League is irreconcilably opposed to Constitutional Amendment No. 3 because it is rank special legislation, intolerably obnoxious to the constitution as it exists; it is a gross violation of the principles of independence, and financial and commercial interest of the growing prosperous and enterprising cities lying along the eastern shore of San Francisco bay, having the color of law. It is the only city in these United States which even conceived a plan whereby it could grip the entire state, and make every consumer and producer tributary to it pay whatever toll it may exact.

PLANS EXPOSED.

There is no longer any concealment of the fact that San Francisco's object, in the event that Constitutional Amendment No. 3 is adopted, is to absorb the portion of the state which is the most valuable, and to appropriate the resources of neighboring communities by apparently peaceful methods and under proceedings having the color of law. It is the only city in these United States which even conceived a plan whereby it could grip the entire state, and make every consumer and producer tributary to it pay whatever toll it may exact.

ARE WE TO STAND IDLE AND QUITELY SUBMIT TO THIS PLAN OF AUDACIOUS ROBBERY?

Your spirit of manhood should openly and courageously revolt against it!

ALAMEDA AFFECTED.

I have spoken about the proposed gobble up by San Francisco of 135½ miles of the available commercial waterfront of San Francisco and the surrounding counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin and San Mateo—and annex (etc.)—the within itself by a simple majority vote of consent. It must be borne in mind that the constitution now protects each of the two-thirds vote necessary to consent and the prohibition against the formation of any new city and county within five miles of any county seat.

The purpose of the proposed constitutional amendment is plain. It is the boldest attempt to rape friendly neighboring communities and seize all they possess, under the cover of law, which was ever made. History does not record any similar instance. The buccaneers who despoiled it is entitled to the distinguished name of the Hall of Infamy.

The Jury Yet to Be Heard From.

Why is it that such a large proportion of the qualified electors fail to exercise the franchise on election day? Only 40 per cent of the registered vote of Alameda county was polled at the primary election last Tuesday. Less than half the registered vote of Oakland was polled at the recent recall election. At the Presidential primary held earlier in the summer fully sixty per cent of the qualified electors remained away from the polls.

This apathy deserves inquiry. Why is there so little popular interest taken in elections? Why are the majority of voters holding aloof from the preliminary skirmishing that precedes the decisive battle in November? Is it because they do not care who is elected President or what policy shall govern the nation during the next four years?

We do not think the diffidence about voting indicates a lack either of interest in political affairs or of solicitude for the national welfare. Rather, should we say it indicates a feeling of dissatisfaction and uncertainty. A great body of voters—nearly or quite one-half of the qualified electors of the State—have not yet made up their minds what they will do or what they want done. They will speak their minds in November.

When the votes are counted we fancy there will be some surprises.

The present State administration has done some good things, but it has also done a number of things which, if we are not mistaken, are not generally approved. Machine politics is too much in evidence. The seizure of the name and machinery of the Republican party to promote the interests of the candidates of a rival organization has provoked widespread resentment among the people. The merits of the dispute will be decided by the great body of silent, independent voters who are partisans of neither faction and whose chief desire is for good government and fair play in politics.

Also there is a growing feeling that elections are too frequent, and are too easily called to settle trivial and personal disputes rather than questions touching the general welfare. The business of government is being subordinated to the whims of minorities. There is too much turbulence and agitation in the name of reform. Too much machine manipulation in the name of progress.

Nearly half the electors will take no hand in either. They are waiting to see how things will work out. They refuse to commit themselves in advance to any Presidential candidate, but are leaving themselves perfectly free to choose the candidate that fits their ideas best when election day arrives. They are in the attitude of jurors trying a cause in court. They are watching the proceedings and hearing the evidence presented on all sides preliminary to making up their minds and rendering their verdict. They will give little indication of the trend of their thoughts till they have given their decision. They will render a sealed verdict at the polls.

Some of the most active of those who presume to keep the public conscience and who have undertaken to manage political affairs for the people, are blind to the fact that this great jury of non-committal citizens are keeping close watch on them, are weighing their words and deeds without heat or prejudice and will express judgment at the proper time. Party ties sit lightly on this great body of citizens. There never was a time when the fever of partisanship was at such a low ebb nor liberty of action so completely divested of the restraints imposed by party affiliations and the sense of party loyalty.

Men who have broken their party ties and shown their contempt for party names and party obligations are oblivious to the lesson they have taught by example if they think the masses will follow party names and emblems from a feeling of blind loyalty to tradition. Men who show by their words and deeds that symbols have no meaning for them are foolish if they think symbols which are no longer symbolical of former ideals and aspirations will be accepted by the multitude. Putting the cross of Christ on a temple of Baal will not induce a people bred in the Christian faith to worship at heathen shrines.

You can lead a horse to water, but you cannot make him drink. Some of our present day leaders seem to have forgotten this homely bit of philosophy. They seem to think they can make the people go their way by blocking them from going some other way. The people may jump the fence or break it down. The significant point is that fully half the voters of the State are keeping perfectly still and giving no hint of their intentions. They will go their own way when the time comes. They are making up their minds now, each individual thinking for himself and drawing his own conclusions. It is a singular psychological fact, however, that the great silent independent body of voters in some subtle way reach a common understanding. In some occult way their sympathies blend and they reach a common conclusion without organization or communion. They think separately, but they act collectively. In this way popular government is regulated. But no one can ever tell by what telepathic process the silent vote gets together and acts under a common impulse.

Some paradoxes are not paradoxes at all when they come to be examined. For example, Joseph R. Knowland was not renominated by an overwhelming majority because of his political affiliations. He had made an admirable record in Congress, had proved himself an able, efficient and progressive legislator, and his constituents endorsed his work with an utter disregard of political lines. Every Assemblyman nominated in his district is a Roosevelt man, but every district gave Knowland a majority. A majority of the legislative nominees in the district favored his return to Congress. Mr. Knowland's victory was in no sense a partisan triumph. It was a victory for good sense, patriotism and enlightened self-interest over partisanship and the narrow spirit of intolerance that mere partisanship engenders. The re-nomination of Julius Kahn in the Fourth district, E. A. Hayes in the Fifth and James C. Needham in the Seventh must be ascribed primarily to the fact that they have proved themselves men of capacity and efficiency in Congress, and have been of great value to their constituents. They were renominated because the people desired to further avail themselves of their ability and experience. No paradox in that. Merely an exhibition of plain common sense.

A Warning With a Threat.

Clyde Seavey, a member of the State Board of Control, is reported as saying that the cession by the State of the water fronts of Oakland, Los Angeles and San Diego to the municipalities in which they are situated is illegal. He is opposed to the State granting San Francisco the control of her own water front, and inferentially suggests that the Board of Control may take steps to resume possession in the name of the State of the water frontage ceded to Oakland, Los Angeles and San Diego.

Mr. Seavey's opinions are the natural fruit of the bureaucratic system. No bureau ever willingly surrendered control of anything that it has once had its hands on. Every bureau seeks to enlarge its powers and extend its authority. The State Board of Control is reaching out in every direction for more power and more patronage.

As the administrators and beneficiaries of the bureaucratic system are bitterly opposed to giving up control of the San Francisco harbor front, they have set up a claim to the control of the harbor front in Oakland, Los Angeles and San Diego. This claim is set up not to be pushed, but as a threat. It is asserted as a warning to Oakland, Los Angeles and San Diego that if they aid San Francisco's effort to gain control of her harbor front, the right of Oakland, Los Angeles and San Diego to the control of their respective water fronts will be contested by the State Board of Control on the ground that the original cession by the legislature was illegal.

That is the meaning of Mr. Seavey's statement. His object is to stop the movement to give San Francisco control of her own water front. It is a threat that the Board of Control will fight the proposed cession in the courts, and at the same time fight to gain control of the water front in Oakland, Los Angeles and San Diego. The water front of San Francisco is too juicy a plum for the State machine to be given up without a fight. It gives employment to hundreds of men—every one a politician of greater or lesser degree. It gives soft jobs to subservient legislators. The Harbor Commission always has a number of kept Senators and Assemblymen on the payroll. The employees are good milking for campaign funds. The San Francisco water front is a powerful agency in city politics and is also a potent factor in the politics of the State and the control of legislation at Sacramento.

Mr. Seavey gives the public to understand that this rich mine of patronage will not be given up without a struggle. He suggests a line of resistance that is intended to deter Oakland, Los Angeles and San Diego from giving aid to the project to give San Francisco control of her water front. Those cities are plainly told that they must keep out of this or lose control of their own water fronts.

The wild ass of the desert can now return to the sage brush in Arizona with the consciousness of having assisted in swelling Knowland's majority. He was a hoodoo to every candidate he spoke for. He canvassed against Congressman Hayes in the San Jose district and Hayes won. He canvassed for Frank Devlin in the Sacramento district and Charlie Curry beat him. He canvassed the district for Stetson, and the returns are an awful commentary on his power to hoodoo a candidate.

The day before the election the Enquirer printed a forecast showing that John F. Mullins would be defeated by from 250 to 500 and that Fred W. Foss would be defeated by from 500 to 1000. It will increase its respect for public intelligence to compare its predictions with the returns. In this campaign it allied itself with all that is indecent, unclean and corrupt in politics. If the Enquirer's candidates stood for what our contemporary said they did what is to be said of the Enquirer's influence in the community? It made itself the organ of Jack Cook a machine, and it must take its share of the popular opprobrium visited on that organization.

"Champ Clark's Congress appropriated more than a billion and spoke 26,000,000 words before it adjourned," says a contemporary. Also Champ Clark splintered the Speaker's desk hammering it to keep the Unterrified in order. Whether the desk was splintered before or after the Baltimore convention is left to conjecture.

Roosevelt on the Vermont Election.

Roosevelt professes to be satisfied with the returns from Vermont. He is easily pleased. If he can take any comfort from the result other than running third in the race it must be the decrease in the Republican vote and the increase in the Democratic vote. We suspect the chief cause of gratification, if he is really gratified, is the heavy falling off in the Republican vote. His own vote cannot be very gratifying because it holds no promise of success for him. Taken as a barometer of sentiment in other States, it is merely an evidence that he is making a good third in the Presidential race.

If the vote is an indication of the trend of political sentiment in New England, Maine will go Democratic next Tuesday. In that case the Colonel will probably profess to see in the result an omen of his success in November, for he is prone to claim every Republican defeat as a victory for himself.

There is no Bull Moose State ticket to be voted for in Maine, and the contest is therefore a straight fight, apparently, between the Republicans and Democrats. But it is not in reality, for many of the Bull Moose's followers are openly announcing an intention to vote the Democratic ticket as a slap at Taft.

The Colonel is saying that the regular Republicans are turning to Wilson. There is truth in his statement as far as those States in which Taft electors are denied a place on the ballot are concerned. In Kansas and California many Republicans will doubtless vote for the Democratic candidate if they are denied an opportunity to vote for Taft. This is the ground for Roosevelt's statement that Republicans are turning to Wilson. But his own followers are responsible for the condition, and they are helping the Democrats to win where they have no chance to win themselves.

The Progressive campaign is not being conducted with any hope on the part of its managers of electing Roosevelt, but of defeating Taft and wrecking the Republican party.

PATRIOTISM AND RECREATION

Some statistical fellow has figured out for their achievements in youth. We have cities of the south and cities of the east and cities of the west—all breathing different atmospheres and manifesting different characteristics. We even have antiquities in California, Florida and New Mexico which bear competitive marks, so to speak, with many of those held to be the attraction for the American who visits Europe.

If we knew these things by hearing them we would then be in better position to appreciate European sights and wonders at their true worth. We would learn how infinitely more magnificent is our own country than any other country on the globe.

It is well enough to know Europe. Broad-minded Americans who have the means are moved by that ambition almost without exception. But it is unpatriotic ingratitude merely to seek entertainment abroad when at a less cost we can acquire a knowledge of the grandeur and beauty of our own land.—Portland Telegram.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

The Republican campaign in behalf of the national ticket opened tonight with a torchlight procession and a rally at the tabernacle at Eleventh and Harrison streets. Governor G. Perkins and William S. Barnes of San Francisco were the speakers.

SUMMER PRIVILEGE

He found the town too irksome quite for comfort, and the roar forced him to scenes of vague delight—The sandy, beachy shore; And there he found life's fullest charm—Was his. At mere command—Word's cases caused never an alarm—He'd lie upon the sand.

Girls came. To each he conversed free, As summer men may do, Against the sky, the birds, the sea—A talkfest made for two;

Such tales he told roused visions fine;

His manner was so bland,

The girls could never quite divine

His lying—on the sand.

Secretary of War to Hold the Hearings; Pests

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson has arranged to hold hearings on the White Pine blight rust September 16, on the Mediterranean. By September 10 and the potato wart September 20, preliminary to proposed sweeping quarantine proclamations against these agricultural menaces under a new law.

The Department of Agriculture experts say there is imminent danger of the introduction into this country of the pine rust, a fungous disease ravaging pine trees. In practically all of Europe which would cause enormous damage to American coniferous forests. The potato wart exists in nearby islands and in Europe as the wart, and under the aliases of potato canker and black scab, also is threatening this country and the Mediterranean fly, already enjoying life in Hawaii, Australia and elsewhere, has alarmed Pacific coast fruit growers.

After the little courtesy of hearings, the Secretary of Agriculture proposes to declare a quarantine against the three-fold stratification of the mound. The upper and lower layers bear the evidence of human habitation, the middle layer being only nature's work. This peculiar stratification was taken to prove that an ancient village site was covered by the sea and in centuries later was recolonized by an aboriginal village.

Dr. Hill Tout, the latest arrival to join the scientists, compared the shell heap and its contents to similar ones that he has explored in British Columbia. Dr. Hewitt and Kroeger explained to the spectators how the relics differed from those in the cliff dwelling ruins and in the shell mounds around San Francisco bay.

A GREAT RECORD

Hard to Duplicate It in Oakland

Scores of representative citizens of Oakland are testifying for Doan's Kidney Pills. Such a record of local endorsement is unequalled in modern times. This public statement made by a citizen is but one of the many that have preceded it and the hundreds that will follow. Read it:

Dr. R. F. Marsnall, 630 E. Twelfth street, Oakland, Cal., says: "I am glad at all times to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and I take pleasure in confirming the statement I gave in my press release in 1907. I practice medicine in Marshalltown and became conversant with the curative powers of Doan's Kidney Pills when we brought me great relief from kidney trouble. In fact, I can say that no other preparation ever helped me as much as they did. Being thus convinced of the value of Doan's Kidney Pills, I prescribe them in all cases of kidney complaint and I have never heard of their failing to give the best of results. With other physicians in my old home, as well as myself, Doan's Kidney Pills were considered to be a most effective kidney medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

BACKACHE NOT A DISEASE

But a Symptom, a Danger Signal Which Every Woman Should Heed.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Read about Mrs. Woodall's experience.

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal, victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand right clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. OLMER WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

G.A.R. VISITORS TO COME TOMORROW

General Trimble, Commander-in-Chief, Will Head the Delegation.

General H. M. Trimble, the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, accompanied by his official staff and many distinguished guests from every corner of the nation, will arrive in Oakland tomorrow afternoon about 1 o'clock. The comrades of the Grand Army in Alameda county, joined by the comrades from San Francisco and all the auxiliaries around the bay, will give them a reception during the afternoon and evening and see them happily on their way to the assembling of the national encampment at Los Angeles, which opens Monday, September 8.

The comrades having the matter in hand have arranged to give the distinguished party an auto ride through the cities of Alameda, Oakland and Berkeley and show them the beauties and commercial advantages of Oakland and neighboring cities, and especially the unique features of local products which may attract our visitors and invite those among them who may contemplate a change of residence to our state.

The probable route to be followed, as marked out at department headquarters, will be from the Bay and Washington streets through the city of Alameda to High street; north on High street to Fruitvale, thence through the highlands of Oakland, through the Piedmont section, out Broadway to and through the Rockridge district, giving a splendid panoramic view of the city of Oakland; thence through Claremont, past the blind asylum to Durant avenue, to Telegraph through the University grounds to the Great Lakes, where the party will be landed to visit the lake, thence through the north entrance of the University grounds to Euclid avenue, up La Loma avenue to the high elevation of the Sherman tract, where another beautiful panoramic view of the cities of Alameda and Oakland is obtained, thence north through the Crockett and Northbrae elevations, among the beautiful homes and residences; thence back to Oakland on Telegraph avenue, past the new city hall, Bankers' hotel and other places of interest, and finally to Lincoln hall, where the party will be received with supper at about 5 o'clock to 6:30, after which a reception will be held in the adjoining hall, where all the comrades and their families will help to extend a welcome to our visitors.

An invitation has been extended to all the mayors of the cities around the bay to be present and lend their good cheer to the occasion as well as receive the courtesies of the occasion.

The following names are among those who will be the commander-in-chief's party:

General H. M. Trimble, wife and party.
Adjutant General C. R. E. Koch, wife and party.
Judge Advocate General W. A. Ketcham.
A. Watrous, assistant adjutant general.
Wm. P. Wright, chief of staff, and wife.
J. M. Vernon, senior aide-de-camp, and wife.
W. H. Armstrong, member of executive committee.
C. B. Wilson, member of executive committee.
F. M. Sterritt, member of executive committee.
L. W. Collins, member of executive committee.
J. J. Healy, aide-de-camp and assistant quartermaster general.
Past Commanders-in-Chief James Tanner, Eli Torrance, S. S. Burdette, J. E. Gilman and wife; General J. C. B. Jones, commissioner of pensions; E. B. Gault, department commander; Illinois; H. C. Cook, assistant adjutant general of Illinois and wife; John Barr, commander department of Kentucky and wife; Wm. P. Lynch, commander department of Florida; Charles C. Royce, past junior vice president; and wife; E. B. Penton, past junior vice commander-in-chief, and wife; J. L. Bennett, past assistant adjutant general, and wife; George R. Lyon and wife; Aldecamp; C. H. Taylor, W. P. Black, M. J. Shinn, E. S. Johnson, J. S. Vining, Ed Watson, D. W. Howe, G. C. DeMol, M. E. Ferguson, Charles W. Snyder, Albert Eads and wife, Aaron Dunbar and wife; Judge McFie and wife, L. W. Campbell and wife; Flo J. Miller, past national president; W. R. C.; Mrs. F. O. McRae, member of staff W. R. C.; Mrs. Cora M. Davis, secretary, Salt Lake City, and 165 others.

This party is made up of the highest standing in their several communities and to show them over our cities should be considered great privilege to our people. No doubt many will be led to contemplate changes in residence in the near future, and it would be a wise move on the part of all real estate men and our business men generally to place their automobiles at the disposal of the committee.

The committee is sending the use of automobiles for the purpose, and those who are willing to lend their machines for the afternoon can reach the committee at the headquarters of the department, 305 Broadway, Oakland, by phone number 463-8.

This is an opportunity for the business men of our cities on this site of the day to make a splendid showing with but little cost of advertising.

GATHER AT TABERNACLE.

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 5.—A sponsored organ recital in the power of the great Tabernacle organ and the organist, Prof. J. J. McCallan, was paid by Commander H. M. Trimble of the Grand Army of the Republic and his party this morning. As guests at a special organ recital in their honor the organists of the Mormon Tabernacle, six hundred other veterans, with families, traveling with him, occupied the enclosing gallery.

One of the selections was "Marching Through Georgia," the earlier strains rolled through the building. Commander Trimble became restless, and when the vox humana stop with its suggestion of the well known words was added to the chorus, he sprang to his feet and with outstretched arms beat time to the music that burst to sing. The hundreds in the Tabernacle hooted the refrain.

After a brief stop in Salt Lake City the special G. A. R. train took up its journey to Los Angeles for the national encampment, leaving at 11 a. m.

Salmon Vessels Returning Home

Advance Guard of Big Fleet Reaches Port; To Winter Here.

Three windjammers, making up the advance guard of the big fleet of packets of the North Alaska Salmon Co. and Alaska Packers' Association, which are at present coming down the coast from the northern canneries, sailed through the Golden Gate yesterday morning, each carrying a capacity cargo of salmon. The ships will winter in the Oakland estuary. The first vessel to make its appearance at this port was the ship Star of Lapland, Captain Thomson, which squared away from the canneries at Naknek seventeen days ago. The big sailing vessel was taken in tow and laid alongside the Alaska Packers' San Francisco sheds, where she is discharging a cargo of 141,052 cases of salmon. Several minutes later the ship Standard, Captain Bergman, of the North Alaska Salmon Co., was sighted on the horizon. The Standard is from Nushagak and was eighteen days in making the run. All three windjammers report rough passages, although no great damage was done. The Standard, at the mouth of the Nushagak river May 23, was struck by a heavy gale which forced her to be beached to prevent being wrecked.

It is expected that several other vessels will be in the harbor by the port today. All will discharge on the San Francisco side, after which they will shift over to this side to winter.

According to report from the north, Humboldt bar is off on a rampage and is keeping the incoming and outgoing shipping of Eureka almost tied up.

HOPE FOR PLEIADES.

Steamer advices received here today report that the position of the Bates & Chesebrough freighter Pleiades, which was driven ashore several weeks ago near Cape Lazaro on the lower coast, are becoming brighter, and it is hoped to float the wrecked craft within the next few days. The wrecker Greenwood, which left this side several days ago for the scene of the wrecked steamer, is working desperately to get the Pleiades off the rocks, which will be due to whether any heavy storms that might come up.

According to the report the big freighter has already been moved forty feet by the Greenwood.

The big Pacific Mail freight and passenger liner Kansas City, which was laid up in the mud off East Oakland several weeks ago, was shifted across the bay to the San Francisco side yesterday afternoon by the tug Arab. The vessel will be put into readiness for the coastwise service, and will begin operating in about ten days.

The new steam schooner Bates, which arrived here a few weeks ago from the north and which for the past few weeks has been having her engine installed at the United Engineering Works, was put on the line company's ways this morning to complete her work here. She will be put into the coastwise lumber service.

A new tugboat for bay service was brought in under tow yesterday from Vallejo and taken to the Standard Gas Engine Company's yards.

The new craft is known as Jimmie 2. She is a forty-foot affair and was built at the Munnott shipyards and will have a 30-horsepower Standard gas engine installed at the local yards.

Vessel at Long Wharf today included the steam schooners San Pedro, National City, Nohalem and the steamer Watson.

The steam schooners Francis H. Leggett and Quinault are in the inner harbor discharging lumber cargoes.

CITY AUTHORIZES PARK PAYMENT

An appropriation of $6000 to make the first payment on the public park at Union and Thirty-second streets was authorized by the city council this morning. The appropriation is the first of three payments to be made to the owner of the land, C. F. Rhindollar, the full price being $27,000. Interest in deferred payments will bring this amount to about $29,000.

John Austin, representing the owner, agreed to file a stipulation with the council that the owner would accept the full price of $27,000 and waive the interest if it should become possible to pay in cash instead of on the installment plan.

This is an opportunity for the business men of our cities on this site of the day to make a splendid showing with but little cost of advertising.

GATHER AT TABERNACLE.

One of the selections was "Marching Through Georgia," the earlier strains rolled through the building. Commander Trimble became restless, and when the vox humana stop with its suggestion of the well known words was added to the chorus, he sprang to his feet and with outstretched arms beat time to the music that burst to sing. The hundreds in the Tabernacle hooted the refrain.

After a brief stop in Salt Lake City the special G. A. R. train took up its journey to Los Angeles for the national encampment, leaving at 11 a. m.

ELECTION BOOTHS CAUSE OF SUIT

Election booths belonging to the county, which were repaired in 1910 preparatory for the election held on August 16, that year, and which had recently been used, were held in the basement of the county courthouse, and were a source of trouble to the county. Suit to enforce the payment of 47 claims aggregating $1,795.50 has been filed against the county by Martin Royce, the chairman of the election committee in the complaint that Supervisor Noble, a member of the election committee, refused to approve the claims on the grounds that they were highly excessive and that since that time the matter had dragged along without settlement. The majority of the claims is now investigated and it is believed it has the right to reject the claims. The various bills were assigned to Royce by the men who were put on the job by Supervisor Kelly of the building committee.

Contractor F. Page Runs Down Two Women at Crowded Street Corner.

OAKLAND BANKERS TO HOLD ELECTION

A. E. Coldwell Slated for Head of Oakland Chapter at Tomorrow's Vote.

RECKLESS DRIVER HELD BY POLICE

F. Page, a contractor of 2169 Broadway, was arrested at Thirteenth street and Broadway shortly before 1 a. m. this afternoon after he had run down two women whose names have not been ascertained. He was booked at the police station on a charge of reckless driving. Neither of the two women was severely injured.

According to Page's account of the accident he was traveling north on the east side of Broadway and when about to cross Thirteenth he sighted another automobile going a good speed. This machine, Page says, attempted to turn from Thirteenth into Broadway without crossing according to the traffic signal.

To avoid an accident Page swung his machine round toward the northwest corner of Thirteenth and Broadway. He found several people in his path, and in avoiding a street car and dodging a woman pedestrian he ran down two women who were just leaving the curb in front of a corner drug store.

The election is the sixth held by this organization, which was organized in Oakland six years ago.

MID a wealth of flowers, before an improvised altar ablaze with candles, the beautifully appointed wedding of Miss Hazel Laymance and Henry Hellbron Jr. was solemnized last night by Rev. Herbert Atchenson, pastor of the First Congregational Church.

It was a home wedding, with pink and blue as the effective color scheme. The halls of the Laymance residence were banked in greens and baskets of pink roses and lilies, while the drawing room, where the wedding service was performed, was in pink roses and tiger lilies. The bride's party approached the arbor of pink blossoms to the altar through an aisle outlined in pink satin ribbons.

The bridal gown was an exquisite one, of white charmeuse, made in the latest mode, with an overdress of rose point lace, while her embroidered tulip veil was held in place by a becoming Juliet cap of orange blossoms. A shower bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley completed a beautiful toilette.

Miss Grace Laymance was dressed in pink charmeuse with an overdress of lace, elaborately embroidered in pink and blue. The quartet of bridesmaids were gowned alike in pink charmeuse with poulters of French blue chiffon. They carried graceful baskets filled with forget-me-nots and pink roses. Miss Nina Hellbron, Miss Frances Burnsay, Miss Dorothy Taylor and Miss Mae Hartman were the maidens.

Mrs. M. J. Laymance wore an imported blue charmeuse made with a very handsome overdress of gold lace.

Mrs. Edward Hall Dodge of Portland, a sister of the bride, wore blue silk with American beauty colored trimming.

Mrs. Leslie Rice was gowned in peach colored messaline made with a quantity of old lace.

Mrs. Henry Hellbron Sr. wore a regal gown of white satin with an overdress of duchess lace.

Some stunning gowns were worn by the 250 guests.

Andy McClure was his brother's best man. The ribbon bearers were Watt Clinch, Robert Moulton, Herman Phlegar and Leonard Buck.

In the garden, in a large marquee adorned in garlands of greens and aglow with dozens of pink lights, a wedding supper was served. A dance followed.

Mrs. and Mrs. Hellbron Jr. will live in a handsome new home in Sacramento, presented the young couple by the parents of the bridegroom and furnished by the parents of the bride.

SMART WEDDING TONIGHT.

Another smart wedding will be that of Miss Gladys Gould and Lynn C. Ross, which takes place tonight at the artistic home of Mrs. Louis Tasheira, aunt of the bride.

About 100 guests will witness the ceremony, performed by Rev. Clinton Maccon.

The bride is very attractive and is popular in local society. She will wear a lovely wedding gown of white charmeuse draped in chiffon and embroidered in pink, with her lone wedding veil will be caught with orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet will be made of lilies of the valley and orchids.

The Tasheira home will be adorned in a profusion of flowers and fernery, pink and green being the color note.

Mrs. George Reeves, sister of the bride, will attend her as matron of honor. Mrs. Tasheira will wear a handsome white satin with an overdress of black lace and embellished in steel beads.

Among the guests will be L. D. Ross and Miss Eleanor Ross, father and sister of the bridegroom, who came from Indiana to be present. The bride is a graduate of the Oakland high school and also attended Stanford University. She has a host of friends here. The young couple will live in Indiana, where the bridegroom is in business.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

SPENDS FORTUNE TRYING TO GET BIG ESTATE

Mrs. Turnbull Will Become a Beauty Culturist to Recoup Loss.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—After spending her fortune in her fight to have her daughter, Beatrice Turnbull, share in the $25,000,000 estate of the famous E. J. "Lucky" Baldwin of Los Angeles, Mrs. Lillian Ashley Turnbull, of No. 221 Harvard street, Brookline, who has declared herself bankrupt, announces that she is going to make a new start in an attempt to regain what she has lost.

Mrs. Turnbull became known all over the country during the remarkable court contest in California in which she claimed she was Baldwin's common law wife. In an interview Mrs. Turnbull said that she had decided to drop her fight to have her daughter recognized in the California courts as the child of the millionaire racing and mining man.

She told the story of how she had spent every cent of her fortune. Her brave fight, it was said, was the direct cause of her filing the petition in bankruptcy. In this Mrs. Turnbull declared that she had no assets.

Mrs. Turnbull declared that she will again start in business as a teacher in beauty culture.

Mrs. Turnbull said she could not see anything to do but to drop the will fight.

"I do not see how I can proceed further," said Mrs. Turnbull. "The Supreme Court of California in a decision ruled against me and my daughter. I have been reduced to the bankruptcy court and can see nothing further to do than to drop the contest."

"I entered into a common law marriage with Baldwin," said Mrs. Turnbull, "and we both signed an agreement to that effect. I lived with him for several months, but when I learned he had a wife living I left him. He played the same trick on other women we he did me."

"I am sure the signed agreement or contract between us is still in existence. A few days after our marriage he asked me for it, explaining that he would take care of it for me. The Supreme Court of California held that although I was introduced and recognized as Baldwin's wife the claim must be established beyond all doubt. Naturally the widow or wife at that time knew nothing about my predicament. It was up to this technically that I lost my action."

"I am going to start over again and make an attempt to regain what I have lost."

Was Kind; Gets Estate

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—An act of kindness to a weary wayfarer has made a Chicago woman heiress to a $300,000 estate. Five years ago Mrs. Blanche A. Raymond of this city answered a knock at her door and found an old man who wanted to do odd jobs and receive his payment in food. He said his name was William Chassies and that he was an educated Belgian, a victim of adverse circumstances.

The old man remained as Mrs. Raymond's janitor. He became ill last May. She gave him every care and finally took him to the Alexian Brothers hospital. There on the day before he died he called her to his bedside and told her the story of his life. He submitted a notary and witnesses and made a will in which he bequeathed $300,000 to his benefactor.

Mrs. Raymond now is searching for the members of the old man's family. There are two children somewhere in the United States and each has been given $25,000 by the terms of the will.

VIOLINIST TO WED.

Miss Anna O'Shaughnessy, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. O'Shaughnessy of San Francisco, will be married to Fred A. Lucas, a young business man, also of San Francisco, on September 15.

The prospective bride is an accomplished violinist and both young people have many friends here.

Miss O'Shaughnessy has charmed many audiences of both sides of the bay with art.

BICYCLING

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1912, by Lillian Russell.)

T is a real pity that bicycling should pass out of existence as a delightful exercise. Nothing I ever have done as an exercise for muscle and brain has filled quite the same requirements. It always was a pleasure to dress for bicycling at breakfast time; then after an hour's rest after breakfast, mount a comfortable wheel and ride over the country roads in pleasant company to some point of interest; resting under the shady trees, when too warm and tired; then returning home to the warm bath and cool shower and to don fresh clothing. Such exercise always was a splendid way to start the day. Even when traveling, I always carried a couple of bicycles with me, and I rode almost every day. I really saw a great deal of the country that I have never seen since even with an automobile.

With a wheel one can run through woodland trails where even a horse cannot go. As for the exercise itself, nothing is more beneficial. The movement of the hips, limbs and shoulders is sufficient to insure a fine perspiration, caused by perfect circulation and effort. Every pore is opened and every muscle is exercised. For reducing the weight I found bicycling effective as well as pleasing. Few beneficial exercises cause so little effort. Why it was abandoned by every one simultaneously is a problem to solve.

We only see bicyclists now in country towns, where distances are long from house to house, and in Canada and Europe. The Canadians still keep up the fashion and women in England and on the continent ride the wheel when they cannot afford horses. English women will have exercise. They have been drilled for centuries to know that some sort of work is necessary to health.

If some smart girls will start bicycling once more they will find many adherents to their principles. They will probably restore a fashion which is beneficial to health and beauty, at the same time it being a joyful recreation. Remember, exercise is necessary to health and beauty. The more simple and enjoyable the exercise, the more beautiful is the effect.

Apply this, and then, after it is thoroughly dry, apply a good cold cream that agrees with your skin. Do this night and morning, and you will see a great improvement.

Jim Griffin Is Selected as Arbitrator of the Burns and Hogan Boxing Match

IT IS AN OFF DAY FOR KILLILAY AND WE LOSE

Happy's Gang Finds Him Easy Picking in Very First Round and Three Runs Win the Game

There isn't a thing to crow about this day. Just when things were looking lovely for the hum town boys along comes Happy's Hogan and his Royal Bengals and we're find ourselves on the short end of a 5 to 0 score.

All this happened on the preserves over the bay where one Bill Reidy has been trying for many moons to build up a pennant winner and it was the opening game of a series that will be popular all week and then some, for there will be eight meetings in these series.

To win the opener was our one ambition, for the opening game is most prized by a manager, but Jack Killilay with his wondrous arm and Tyler Christian with his wondrous head couldn't pull us through.

They tried well and hard but somehow Happy's gang just felt like beating us and they did. Maybe it would be unsportsmanlike to say that Happy has a horseshoe, but he has and it worked overtime for the Hodson Down town San Francisco, who woke up and stayed out of their good games and trounced Dillon's bunch so by them losing and us losing too, Happy pulled further away from us and went on the top rung with those that were the leaders.

ALL OVER IN ONE ROUND.

The very opening round of the contest found out hopes and prides under the table. John worked O. K. in the practice stunts and it was the opinion of the fans and the writers that Dillon's had a better team but opinions sometimes go wrong.

They did in this case for right off the reel Vernon plastered John and five bungles sent three runs to the rubber.

Carlisle, a most valuable man to a ball team, took one swing at the pellet and registered. Johnny Kane followed with a bunt that Bill Leard got, but Killilay failed to beat Johnny to the bag and two were on. Bayless banged a two-base bagger to right and Walter romped with the first tally of the game. Behind Bayless came Roy Fisher with a screamer into left and Johnny Kane was in the run column. While Bayless romped to third.

When Norman Brashear, known to the liveliest fan around the circuit as Killy, led off long fly to the outfield and Earless beat the return home to the rubber. That gave old Hank

SCRAPPERS TO MEET IN TEN-ROUND BOUT

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Articles have been signed here for a ten-round bout between Johnny Coulon, bantam champion of the world, and "Kid" Williams of Baltimore. The fight will take place at Madison Square Garden, at 116 pounds, ringside, the date being October 13.

It is announced that Al Hartman, the former feather-weight champion, and Harry Thomas of England will meet here on September 15, at 126 pounds. Johnny Kilbane, feather-weight champion, and Eddie O'Keefe of Philadelphia are to fight in the Garden on September 18.

MCGREEVY GOES INTO BAN JOHNSON'S LEAGUE

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Sept. 5.—Eugene V. McGreevy of Bloomington, for several seasons an umpire in the Pacific Coast league and in earlier days the star pitcher of the Three-I league, has been signed by Ban Johnson as an umpire in the American league.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4.—New York won the first game, Red Murray's batton turned the trick. In the second, Chalmers came back to life and out-pitched Rube Marquard. Chalmers was batted hard only in the eighth, holding the Giants safe at the other stages. Walsh and Karcher starred for Philadelphia. The scores:

First game—

R. H. D.
Philadelphia ..... 2 8 0
New York ..... 5 10 0
Batteries—Moore and Killilay; Tressau and Wilson.

Second game—

R. H. E.
Philadelphia ..... 4 9 1
Batteries—Chalmers and O'Dohm; Marquard and Wilson.

R. H. E.
Chicago ..... 5 6 0
Pittsburgh ..... 5 10 0
Batteries—Lavender and Needham; Clegg and Simon.

R. H. E.
Brooklyn ..... 2 6 0
Boston ..... 1 2 0
Batteries—Stack and Miller; Dickson and Karcher. Thirteen innings.

R. H. E.
Cincinnati ..... 0 9 0
St. Louis ..... 3 0 0
Batteries—Benton and Clarke; Sallee and Bresnahan.

The Washington State League disbanded on July 1, and the players have caught on in the Northwestern League and others went on to the Union Association.

Experience is the greatest factor in the successful treatment of Special and Polyc Diseases. I have devoted a lifetime to the study and practice of my specialties. Many have been almost uniformly successful in every case that I have accepted for treatment. The hub of my practice is the city of Oakland, Calif.

Every week feel assured that they are under the care of a Skilled Physician. The fact that you are getting the cure which you seek is a great satisfaction. Every day comes the discharge cured every day comes the hope to have faith in me. All who come to me rich and poor, old and young, are treated in a most charitable and kindly manner, and a cure is just as certain as certain is placed in my care.

Walter Carlisle got a nasty clip on the shoulder from Christian's pitching arm in the eighth inning and went to the mat. He wriggled around for several minutes and then went back to work.

Bud Sharp is still under the weather and Big John is holding down the job as first baseman and it might be added that Big John is doing the work so well that few of the fans are missing the other fellow.

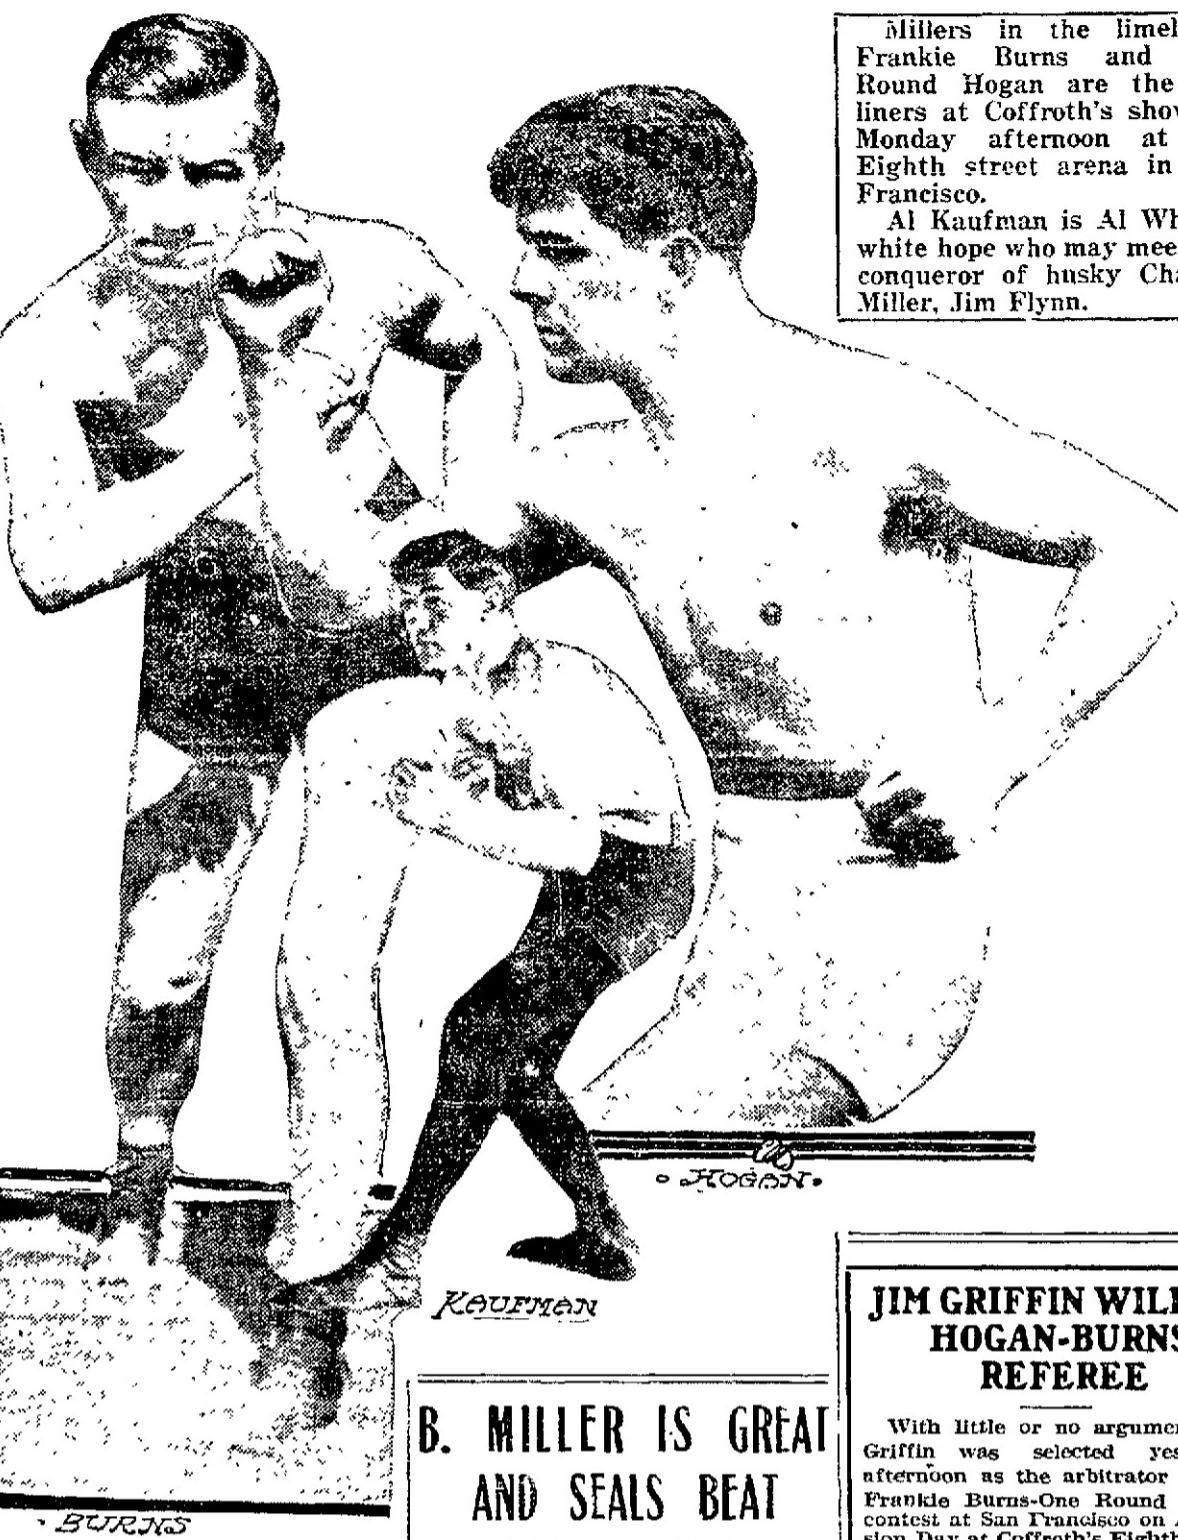

Bullie Miller did the honors for Bill Reidy in the southland yesterday and his pitching was fair. At Los Angeles Gatherted but five hits and three of them were of the scratch order.

Sacramento won a game yesterday, which makes the second one out of 18 that they have taken. One of these was from Los Angeles and one was from the Beavers. Previous to beating the Angels last week the Solons lost 11 in a row.

BIG GAME THIS MONTH.

It is expected that the large polo tournament will be held next month in the City of Los Angeles. The County Club's field from September 28 to October 6.

Wulf and the Soals and the later stands a better chance each day if he keeps up the looks of leading the league.

Millers in the limelight. Frankie Burns and One Round Hogan are the top liners at Coffroth's show on Monday afternoon at his Eighth street arena in San Francisco.

Al Kaufman is Al White's white hope who may meet the conqueror of husky Charley Miller, Jim Flynn.

HEATED DISCUSSIONS HAD OVER HOGAN AND BURNS

Rival Lightweights Should Put Up Most Interesting Bout When They Meet on Admission Day

Outside of a little chatter here and there as to whether Flynn won in fifteen rounds or whether Miller stayed fifteen rounds, the main topic of conversation among the men who follow the padded mits is the coming passage at arms between Frankie Burns of Oakland and Fred Hogan of San Francisco, which the illustrious James W. Coffroth will stage at his Eighth street arena on September 9, otherwise next Monday afternoon.

Naturally when two mitters are down on the card for a go with the padded mits, each will have his most ardent supporters. Hogan's camp is the Frankies Burns—One Round Hogan crew. Since the rules, there is a wide difference of opinion as to the good and bad qualities of the two boys and at the hang out places of the sports there is more or less discussion relative to the merits of the fighters.

Those who can see nothing but Hogan in the coming scrap are there with all kinds of excuses regarding his past performances in the ring. His bout with Ad. Wolgast, Kayo Brown and Tommy McFarland are not topics of discussion. What the followers of Hogan harp on his performances against the same Frankie Burns.

It is their contention that One Rounder beat Burns decisively in that four-round bout on August 5, 1910, but of course this kind of prattle don't go with the fans who saw the mill. There is also a contention that One Rounder wasn't treated fairly, which is a subject of some inquiry. On Aug. 2, 1911, and Hogan followers say that the referee was too severe on Fred and that he wasn't in the best of shape that night.

SAY FRED HAS THE WALLOP.

Those who pin their faith in Hogan claim that his condition will be at the good on Monday and that he has a wallop that is far harder than Frankies, and that it will find the spot. When Hogan was told of the bout he was not pleased, but since he turned professional that punch seemed to lack steam, and moreover, the same amount of bravery that was an element in the four-round game is missing in his professional career.

At that regardless of his shortcomings, one cannot but admit that Hogan has more merit and qualities and there is little doubt but what he will put up the best he has when he tackles Burns, for it is his last chance to redeem himself in the eyes of the fans.

As for the other half of the bout, Burns has his loyal supporters and have more than the best of the argument when comparing the two men. Burns has met just as tough, if not tougher boys than Hogan, and his work in most instances has been of a high order. There is no gainsaying the fact but that Burns is the champion of the world.

The 10-round preliminary for the Ad. Wolgast card will be furnished by Willie Carolin and Ray Baughman, the "Petulama Chicken," Bert Stealey and Ed Willis both of whom tip the scales at 200 pounds, will box the four-round curtain raiser.

BURNS WHIPPED RITCHIE.

Back in 1909, when Willie Ritchie and Frankie Burns were cubs in the fighting game, they met in a six-round bout in Oakland and Eddie lowered the colors of the San Francisco hero. Since then, Willie has waded along and earned or at least should have had a decision over Ad. Wolgast in four rounds, and likewise trimmed Joe Mandot, who recently trounced Joe Rivers.

Sizing up the two boys on past performances, as well as their ability to mill with their willingness and unwillingness to mind, Burns stands out in his own self in comparison with Hogan. Whether or no he is still the better man remains to be seen, but he thinks he is and there are a big bunch of fans who think as he does.

September 9th will settle who is who in the camp of the champion. Burns is in the watchful eye of that clever little trainer, Kid Parker, and has reliable Charley Reilly and Henry Proctor as his sparring partners, and Burns' work yesterday and his general looks showed that he will be there on Monday.

Hogan is at one of the best resorts near the beach in San Francisco, and is likewise going through the stunts each day with the determination that is pleasing to his followers. He has Jimmy Fox as one of his sparring partners, and the bouts these two put up are always interesting.

Comments and anticipations for a number of bets in which there was a question as to whether Jim Flynn won from Charlie Miller in fifteen rounds or not, decided that he would be the best off and round the corner. He decided this action because there was a difference of opinion and Referee Spider Kelly would not render an opinion to settle bets.

The 10-round preliminary for the Ad. Wolgast card will be furnished by Willie Carolin and Ray Baughman, the "Petulama Chicken," Bert Stealey and Ed Willis both of whom tip the scales at 200 pounds, will box the four-round curtain raiser.

BEAVERS ARE GIVEN AWFUL POUNCING BY SENATORS

JIM GRIFFIN WILL BE HOGAN-BURNS REFEREE

With little or no argument Jim Griffin was selected yesterday afternoon as the arbitrator of the Frankie Burns—One Round Hogan contest at San Francisco on Admission Day at Coffroth's Eighth street arena.

Jim Coffroth as promoter and Gil Boag for Hogan and Grant Gorman for Burns, met at the former's office, and when the name of the auburn-haired referee was mentioned all hands agreed that he was the right man for the place.

Griffin has had no little experience as a referee and officiated as third man for the Murphys and Al-Americans and his work gave general satisfaction up and down the line. His views were planted in favor of the old.

Miller was never better. He was the master from the moment that he followed his glove into the arena until he threw his gauntlet aside in the ninth inning. Five hits, two of them in the same inning, was the sum total of the damage done to his curves and reputation.

The Seals amassed their runs one at a time. They began in the first inning—Vernon's worst. Wulf had the charge by beating out a bunt down the third-base line, rededicated the old third-base line, and on to his liking mashed it sailing into left field almost on a line. Driscoll misjudged the flick. It whistled through the air ten feet over his head and splintered a board on the fence. Wulf scored.

Wulf had a clean single. On a hit and run, Berger drove a single over second. Berger being drawn out of his position with the expectation of a bunt. Wulf had a good start rounding second and reached third safely with a long double. The Seals had the lead.

Miller was not satisfied with this exhibition of his speed, but tore away for the plate after Lober had caught Howard's fly in short center. The throw was from only a short distance.

Vernon's shoots were nipped ten times, but the failure of the Seals to make this count for more than three runs proves conclusively that a majority of the fans were planted in favor of the old.

Miller was never better. He was the master from the moment that he followed his glove into the arena until he threw his gauntlet aside in the ninth inning. Five hits, two of them in the same inning, was the sum total of the damage done to his curves and reputation.

In one of the greatest semi-professional games ever seen at Freeman park, Oakland's crack colored team, the Giants, nosed out the Native Sons of Berkeley, after 12 innings of thrilling battles.

The Beavers boys were in a flying start when two hits and a wild peg aided them in putting one run across the rubber in the very first inning. After that, they never got another man as far as third base. The Giants never saw the third base. The game ended in a tie.

The Seals made their final tally in the fifth. Claude Berry opened with a single to center. Miller dunted to Ve: on, but Berger mislaid the throw to catch him. The Beavers' two runs were safe. Wulf forced Berry at third. Miller took third when Geddon forced Wulf at second and scored on a sizzling single by Howard. Score

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—It was "bullet" Miller's age, experience and speed against Harry Vernon's youth, ambition and curves yesterday, and age, experience and speed won, 3 to 0.

Weather Tends to Lift Wheat Market; Corn Quotations Are Weak.

Tomorrow evening in Loring Hall, 531 Eleventh street, at the special meeting of the California New England Association, committees will be announced to arrange for the various sports to be engaged in on Monday next, (Admission Day), at the outing and shore dinner at Princeton-by-the-Sea. A special car for New Englanders and their friends will be attached to the 10 a. m. train at the depot, Eleventh and Market streets, San Francisco, and Monday and to avoid the crowd consequent upon a holiday, tickets for the trip and dinner will be furnished at the meeting tomorrow evening to those desiring to participate in the day's outing. Many prominent Alameda county business and professional men will take part in the various entertainments provided and for the nonce will imagine themselves as in their youthful days on one of the many beaches on the Atlantic coast.

Sails 3000 Miles in Ancient Bay Scow

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—From the Golden Gate to the Arctic in a 17-ton bay scow 46 years old is the voyage reported in a letter dated Point Barrow, August 10, and published here today. H. C. Slein, an old trader, was skipper and Peter Peterson was mate, cook and crew.

"At no time during the 3000-mile trip," writes Peterson, "did we get the decks wet as they were while we were being towed to sea by a launch." Slein had not money enough to freight his trading goods up the coast, so he bought the Alice Stofer, stocked and loaded her and set sail on May 16, as his friends thought, for Davy Jones' locker. For the greater part of the voyage, he writes, the wheel was lashed and the Stofer sailed herself.

SOLDIER'S HEIRS WILL GET $600,000 ESTATE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Robert T. Way, a clerk employed by the old Dominion Bank, has learned from Denver that he and his two brothers and one sister, who are in reduced circumstances, are heirs to an estate there worth approximately $600,000.

Manuel Arizmendi, a Cuban Axeman, was born in this city together with his brother during the American revolution. The former went west and the latter settled in Georgia. They soon lost track of each other. Jacob took up arms against the former, and was captured, but was rewarded for his services by the government with a grant of land worth about $20,000.

The Denver records are said to show that the brother died in that city in 1862, when he was nearly 100 years old. He left an deposit about $5000 and owned considerable land which since has greatly enhanced in value. The cash in the bank has drawn interest ever since.

EPIDEMIC AMONG HORSES IS SERIOUS

WHITE-TOP CITY SPROUTS OVER NIGHT

CIRCUS COMES AND OF COURSE CONQUERS

BARNUM & BAILEY PAGEANT LEAVING TENT FOR TODAY'S PARADE; ARRIVAL OF CIRCUS TRAIN IN OAKLAND, AND ONE OF THE FAIR RIDERS.

BIGGER THAN EVER BIG SHOWS HERE

Four Trains Bring Barnum and Bailey Production to This City.

The Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth held the city a willing captive today, repeating its surpassing triumphs of former invasions and demonstrating anew that ceaseless progress and energy are its watchwords. Its conquest was complete and instantaneous. Its day's visit will live long and joyously in the memory of young and old.

Photographs of the circus, its bigger and brighter than ever before, rigid discipline and organization were evident in every move; the parade was even more than was promised in magnitude and diversity; tents spacious, scrupulously clean and cool; an atmosphere of cordial hospitality and good fellowship prevailed in an abundance that are not always vouchsafed in the world of "white tops"; the voices of joy and health resound through the ranks.

Four trains are required to transport the vast and wondrous effects of the Barnum & Bailey circus and they began to arrive before daylight this morning.

MAIL CARRIER FOR CIRCUS.

The first section bore the paraphernalia necessary to the immediate wants of the encampment at the show grounds and had been stripped of its burden of state and military and courtly outfit, dressing-room necessities, camp wagons, billiard rooms, stable wagons, and two hundred draft horses before its companions of the rail had been sighted. One of the first to alight was the general-manager and at his heels was the circus detective, scrutinizing faces and figures, and conferring with railroad officials. The circus mail carrier, too, was among the early throng. He hurried off to the postoffice where a bundle of several thousand letters and packages awaited him.

The circus, it was discovered, alights every night to catch stock car. Barnum & Bailey circus, with half a thousand equines of all kinds and colors and sizes, from the saucy pony and fleet slender chariot racers to the big white ring and draft horses.

CANVAS CITY RISES.

With the arrival of the chairs and stakes wagon the active work of erecting the tents began. The cook tent was first in position that food might await the hundred loads of circus folk on the way. The scene was one of bustle and activity. Teams of horses were soon pulling the towering center poles of the "big top" into upright position and the skeleton of the monster was in place. The vast reaches of canvas were unrolled in sections and together with the men on the ground. Then the mammoth white cloth was pulled upward and was attached to the side poles.

Watson's apparatus kept arriving, and riders, ring masters, animal trainers, acrobats, gymnasts, jugglers, equilibrists, clowns, ticket sellers and all the rest of the heterogeneous throng were putting in appearance.

The cook tent is one of the marvels of the modern circus. Nearly five thousand meals will be served today and service and quality could not be improved upon in the large hotels of many cities.

Cages were thrust under the manager's tent while the work of the feeding of the animals and a hectic busking of all the cleaning of the animals and the body.

Soon horses reappeared, now plumed and ornamented, and drivers donned the uniform of the parade. The sound of music began from many bands. Clowns, charteers, jockeys, knights and ladies, camels and elephants made appearance and soon the picturesque cavalcade nearly three miles long was in motion. Fred Bradna, equestrian director, led the line down to town and back. He had already been in the course once, noting its rough condition with caution borne of long experience.

Through densely crowded streets the parade measured its gait and clamoring passage.

Order had come out of the confusion at peanuts and popcorn into the trunks of the elephants. The monkey cage was another popular rendezvous.

The performance began promptly at 2 o'clock when the cornet sounded a melodious call. "The Spectacle of Cleopatra" was the inaugural presentation. It is the most ambitious undertaking in the history of the Barnum & Bailey circus, enlisting the services of more than 1000 persons, and indicating the limitless resources of the circus man.

The final performance will be given tonight and then the circus will move to San Francisco for a four days' engagement. It is promised that there will be no confusion or curtailment and another mighty pleased audience is expected.

DISCARDED CIGARETTE WILL COST FOUR LIVES

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—A lighted cigarette thrown down carelessly into a tank containing fifteen gallons of gasoline caused an explosion in a cleaning and dry establishment in the southern section of the city late last night that may cost four lives. Nine men were at work in the shop when the explosion occurred, four of whom were so badly injured that physicians say that they cannot recover.

PROMINENT SOCIALIST DIES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—William Mailly, who in 1903 and 1904 was national secretary of the Socialist party and for several months past associate editor of the Metropolitan Magazine, is dead at his home here of diabetes, aged 41 years.

ZURICH, Switzerland, Sept. 5.—The health officers at quarantine today put into effect an order which commands them to make a thorough inspection of all vessels arriving from southern Italy and Sicily. The reason for the order is found in a telegram that there has been an outbreak of cholera on the Island of Sardinia. There is practically no immigration from Sardinia, however, and no danger is apprehended.

A. W. TRUMBLE DIES.

CHICAGO SUFFERS FROM BLACK HAND

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Another mysterious shooting was added last night to the long list which have occurred in Chicago's north side Italian district. Carlo Capone was shot through the heart, probably accidentally, while sitting in front of his home with his five children. Witnesses of the attack told the police that a man of the name of Mancane had fired the shots. The assailant escaped. It was said that Capone had been the recipient of several mysterious letters.
